Scotland's elections confirmed that our nation's leftwing identity is part myth, part reality | Rory Scothorne

Guardian (Politics) · Tue, 12 May 2026 07:00:17 GMT

There is optimism even after Nigel Farage's party swept to victory in many postindustrial areas – as radical progressives won more seats than ever James IV, King of Scots, never had to worry about elections. This freed him up to satisfy his voracious curiosity with strange experiments: according to one old tale, in 149

Changing the leader won't save Labour – or the country

City AM (News) · Tue, 12 May 2026 04:25:00 +0000

The well-intentioned but hapless Labour backbencher, Catherine West, spent the weekend warning that if she didn't like Keir Starmer's speech she'd launch a leadership challenge in a bid to flush out more serious candidates. In the end, she backed down, but has called for a transition of power to a leader
