Farage and Jenrick to speak on final day of Reform conference marred by scandal and protests – UK politics live

Guardian (UK News) · Sat, 05 Sep 2026 10:31:26 GMT

Farage, who had earlier suspended two close aides, had his keynote speech interrupted multiple times by protesters on Friday. Meanwhile, police are dealing with an apparent protest by groups of masked men in Dover, which a local councillor said appeared to be a “coordinated” demonstration related to “illegal migration”.

The pressure on Burnham to appease the right is huge. But now is the time to step out of Reform's shadow | Andy Beckett

Guardian (Politics) · Sat, 05 Sep 2026 09:00:32 GMT

A scandal-besieged Reform still has a loyal base that won't budge. That should free up the PM to deliver some home truths. Despite the bright start to Andy Burnham's premiership, and Reform UK's sudden disarray, a shadow still hangs over British centre-left politics. Labour has a small poll lead, a cautious air of confidence.
